Songs with break downs and gaps of silence could trick the software into thinking the track is over and advance it to the next song prematurely.. EZ Vinyl/Tape Converter Walkthrough - WindowsFirst, connect the ION turntable or tape player to the computer with the USB cable and ensure that it is powered on.

When this box is checked off the software will automatically advance the recording to the next track when it detects 4-6 seconds of silence This option can be toggled on or off.. If you wish to save them in a different location, such as your Desktop for example, here is how.. In this case is it best to un-check the box and record the songs manually Once the GAIN is set to the proper level and you have toggled the Split recordings into tracks function on or off, click on the record button to start recording your audio.. Press Next In step 2: Get the music ready to play there are two very important items that can greatly affect your recordings: GAIN and the Split recording into tracks.
